ONLY TWO DOLLARS A YEAR!

The Boys and Girls and their Friends will find in

WIDE AWAKE

FOR 1880

Heaps of things to enjoy. Among them will be

FIVE LITTLE PEPPERS AND HOW THEY GREW, by Margaret Sidney. Illustrations by Jessie Curtis.

TWO YOUNG HOUSEBUILDERS, by Theodore R. Jessup. Illustrated by Robert Lewis.

These will be but Two out of Scores. Mr. Lewis Rowse Tells How Jack Was Too Beautiful, Ugly Stories, as Plymouth Oak Farm.

OUR AMERICAN ARTISTS.

Mr. S. G. W. Benjamin will continue these papers which have come so finally welcomed by the people of Japan, being the only Art Series ever prepared for Young People in America during 1880. They will be largely illustrated by the artists themselves, and will also take up our Sculptors, Bird and Flower Painters, Book and Magazine Illustrators, and Engravers.

CONCORD PIC-NIC DAYS.

Under this title Mr. Geo. B. Bartlett will present a series of Outdoor Games for both Boys and Girls. These entertaining papers will be full of Concord reminiscences of famous haunts, and noted people whose names are familiar to the literature and art of two continents.

Professor R. P. Paul and His Discoveries in the Starry Heavens.

Chronicled in Verse by John Henry Jack. Illustrated by Alanson R. Sim. The entire collection will be arranged and edited by John Brougham, and the drawings re-touched by Miss Mary A. Lathbury.

Interesting to Teachers!

A series of TWELVE ORIGINAL EXERCISE SONGS, for use in Public Schools, are being prepared for WIDE AWAKE, under the supervision of Mr. Louis C. Elson, a gentleman well known to the musical public of Boston and New York.

THE ST. NICHOLAS.

John Greenleaf Whittier, the most child-hearted as he is among the foremost of American Authors, writes of St. Nicholas: "It is little to say of this magazine that it is the best child's periodical in the world." Prof. Proctor, the astronomer, wrote from London: "What a wonderful magazine it is for young folks, and ours are quite as much delighted with it as American children can be!" Elsie is inconsolated to delight the little folk everywhere is indicated by the fact that it is to be issued in French by Delagrave of Paris and that even the far-away little Moslems are now to have a volume made up of translations from St. Nicholas into Arabic by the Rev. H. H. Jessup.

Beginning with the November number (ready Oct. 20th) the magazine is to be printed on heavier paper with wider margins, and is to be so much enlarged that the new volume will contain nearly two hundred more pages than any former volume, while the price will remain the same. The publishers announce many brilliant novelties, including a new serial by Miss Louisa M. Alcott, entitled "Jack and Jill;" "The Treasure-Box of English Literature," in which will be given gems from standard English and American authors; an Acting Play for Sunday Schools, by Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, which will be published in time for the holidays, with full directions for its representation in school exhibitions; and a beautiful Fairy Operetta for children entitled "The Sleeping Beauty in the Wood."

The November number has two beautiful frontispieces and a two-page engraving, and contains over sixty illustrations. In it, begins a new serial story for boys, "AMONG THE LAKES," by the author of "Dab Kinzer."

Another splendid serial for boys has been secured for the volume,—"The Fairport Nine," a story of a base-ball club, by Noah Brooks. In short, St. Nicholas, which has no rival on either continent, is to be better than ever.

A superb Christmas number is in preparation, to appear early in December. Subscriptions should begin with November. Buy it of your book-seller, or send the subscription price to the publishers. Price, $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number.

REMEDIES

Have achieved the most instant success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Wesley & Porter have never doubted the wonderful efficacy of Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and Guaranteed cure of Diseases of the Blood, and consequent cure of diseases of the Throat and Lungs, when taken in time. Their astonishment at their universal and many far it years to be accounted for in the hands of some they would call solely from possession of knowledge not in the hands of others.

They are enabled to offer a guarantee of conviction that no one need be disappointed in the cures performed by the Outgoing Quantities.

SALT RHEUM

Covering the Body for Two Years, Pronounced Incurable.

Law Office of Gale, Houghton & Gale, Counsellors at Law, Boston, Feb. 28th, 1879.

Messrs. Wesley & Porter, Boston:—Gentlemen:—It is a duty to inform you and through you all who are interested in knowing the fact, that the most remarkable cure of Salt Rheum, which has covered the body of my wife for two years, has been made by your compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. The disease was pronounced incurable by the most experienced physicians, and many for it years to be accounted for in the hands of some they would call solely from possession of knowledge not in the hands of others.

I am enabled to offer a guarantee of conviction that no one need be disappointed in the cures performed by the Outgoing Quantities.

Yours and do heartily advise all similarly suffering to try the remedy which has been so beneficial in this case.

Very truly yours,

CHAS. HOUGHTON.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Most Approved Method, Cured in Less Than a Month.

Gentlemen:—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with constant pains on the right side, for the past three years. Have tried all the remedies I could hear of, but found no relief. Your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites I commenced to use about three months ago, and in less than a month from the time I began taking it I was entirely relieved of pain, and my appetite returned. I have gained in flesh, and am now in good health. I have recommended it to others, and it is doing the business, and I am glad to say, in strong terms.

Yours truly, JOHN H. BOT,

341 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14, 1878.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Franklin Company claim their taxes in Auburn are too high, and a committee has been appointed by the city council to confer with it a company on the question.

The cook in Mr. Alanson Berry's family in Auburn, raised three loaves of unusually nice bread on Saturday morning, wrapped it in a clean white table linen and put it in the pantry as that the family might have food and to spare over Sunday. Judge of her chagrin and indignation, when going to the pantry a few hours later, she found the three loaves and the table linen gone. The thief was a tramp, who was unsuspected, although seen departing from the premises.

Aroostook.

The South Aroostook Baptist Quarterly Meeting will hold its next session with the church in Ludlow, beginning Dec. 19th.

Freights sent from Houlton by rail during the month of November filled 230 cars, as follows: Potatoes, 92; shingles, 33; stanch, 21; clapp, 21; lumber, 21; timber, 7; extract, 6; hay, 6; leather, 5; horses, 2; scrap, 2; shooks, 2; marble, 2.

Mr. T. G. Durgin, of Bridgewater, raised this year eighty bushels of good wheat on nine acres of ground. This shows that Aroostook can raise its own bread and have wheat to sell, if all the farmers would pay more attention to this important crop.

The Aroostook Pioneer says: Our Letter B. correspondent writes, under date of Dec. 6: J. S. Leighton, and Cameron & Sullivan, have crews in the woods here hauling spruce. —— T. J. Carpenter has built a place on the house. —— A. F. Hammond is living in his new house. —— W. W. Webb and J. Nelson are hauling cedar, and camping in Williams Bros.' old camp. —— Quite a little flood was raised here last week by the rain. —— Up to the present time about 18 inches of snow has fallen. That's a pretty fair beginning. Now where are the "weather prophets," to tell us what we are to have next.

Cumberland.

The Portland Argus says: A freight car of the Boston & Maine, loaded with shooks, went off the track while crossing Commercial street, Tuesday morning, and was completely smashed. The track was blocked up for some time and the Grand Trunk passenger train had to unload its passengers and take them to the station in carriages.

A dwelling house was burned at Portland, Tuesday morning. Mrs. Shaw, a young widow with four children, with her uncle, Mr. Warren Shaw, and family occupied the lower portion of the house. She was nearly suffocated by smoke before leaving the house, and Mr. Shaw fell fainting to the floor while attempting to take his household goods, on which there was no insurance. Mrs. Shaw's children were taken in and kindly cared for by Mr. Rieker.

Kennebec.

Wm. M. Dow, well known on the Kennebec as the head of the manufacturing firm of Wm. M. Dow & Co., has returned from California, where he has been for the past year, to his home in Waterville.

The Augusta Journal says: The many friends of Mr. S. W. Fairfield, recently clerk at the Cony House, also for a number of years clerk at the Mansion House, will be glad to learn that he has been called to a clerkship in one of the leading hotels in Florida.

On Thursday of last week a young man, John F. Jepson, of China, met with a severe, and for a time critical, accident. He was engaged in painting the house and the ladder on which he stood slipped at the foot and he fell to the ground six feet on his back. He did not feel much hurt at the time and came to the village, but on the way a distance of a mile and a half, vomited blue clams. Physicians agree that there was a rupture of certain blood vessels over the brain. The vomiting continued at intervals until Sunday. The crisis is now past, and there is every prospect of a recovery.

Sagadahoc.

A narrow escape from a fatal accident occurred at the depot in Richmond, Friday evening. A young man named Mendell, of Pittsfield, employed at the shoe factory, in attempting to board a moving train was struck by a pair of trunks standing on the platform and thrown under the cars, but was rescued by a man standing near, who pulled him out by the leg just in time to clear him from the wheels.

James A. Priest, stepped into a bad place in the side walk in Athens village, and fell, thereby dislocating his right hip. The injury is further complicated with laceration of the ligament. He is a poor man with a large family. The mishap is attributed by some to the defect in the sidewalk, and by others to the walker's careless manner of perambulation.

Business has been quite lively at Lorene this season. The sawmill owned by Mr. Frank Libby has sawed out a large lot of lumber. Mr. Charles Beals has done quite a good business in his tannery. Geo. S. Shepherd owns three large farms, all joining, a short distance below the mills, on which he has made great improvements. He keeps a large lot of very nice sheep on his farms.

While Mrs. Clara A. French, of Canaan, was on a visit to her father's, Chas. Leighton in Harmony, she attempted to go down cellar last Monday when she fell to the bottom, dislocating her arm at the shoulder, and otherwise injuring her. She is recovering favorably.

Mr. G. J. Shaw, of Detroit, has at his stable a four years old colt, a "Kentucky" by birth, very nearly related to the celebrated Goldsmith Maid, and of a beautiful color, that for symmetry of form and elegant carriage cannot be excelled. This colt promises to be one of the fastest on record.

THE MADAWASKA HEARING.

In view of the surrounding circumstances it is safe to say that the hearing before Justice Virgin, of the Supreme Court, in the Senate Chamber at Augusta on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, was the most important judicial proceeding in the history of Maine. In that hearing the principal labor of argument upon the side of the petitioners representing the people of the State derived upon Orville D. Baker Esq., the junior partner of the firm of Baker & Baker, of Augusta, and comparatively a young man to grapple with the far reaching constitutional principles and intricacies of legal construction and practice involved. Hon. Nathan Webb, of Portland, the able and gifted senior associate of Mr. Baker, was prevented by circumstances to which we shall refer from making extended contribution to the argument, although in the brief time occupied by him he powerfully demonstrated the weakness and insufficiency of the respondent's case.

Mr. Baker opened the case and his argument throughout was a marvel of thorough, compact, logical and eloquent presentment, fortified at every point by an array of precedents and authorities that evinced a remarkable familiarity with all the phases of the law bearing upon the case. We have the authority of his eminent associate Mr. Webb, for pronouncing Mr. Baker's argument a "masterly" effort, and that was the verdict of all who had the fortune to hear it. Probably the highest compliment paid to the able, young Republican lawyer, however, was the involuntary tribute of the unwillingness of the unprofessional counsel on the other side to attempt a reply until after an adjournment for further preparation.

When the hearing began Mr. Gould and Attorney-General McLellan were in position with papers duly arranged and great piles of law books at hand, and Mr. Gould accordingly spend part of his time in adding a word here and there to his carefully prepared brief. But when Mr. Baker closed his remarks there was whispered consultation and finally Mr. Webb stated that as the opposing counsel was unable to proceed at that hour of the afternoon on account of inability to read, and as he (Mr. Webb) could not be present Thursday, he must proceed and make his closing argument in anticipation of what the other side would say. At the close of the hearing Mr. Gould and McLellan retired at once to the not inappropriately illuminated State House Library and poured some industrious hours overwhelming the legal reports.

On Thursday Mr. Gould replied. It is well known that he is a gentleman of more than ordinary ability, and he spoke with a great deal of energy for some three hours. His principal concept his argument in a very objectionable manner was more adapted to controlling a jury than to influencing the trained and analytical mind of a judge. In spite of his deprecatory demonstration at the opening of the case, Mr. Gould was the only one of the counsel to make pointed references to men and things outside the case in hand, and some of his allusions were apparently intended for the amusement of the audience rather than for the information of the judge. At one time he suggested that in certain contingencies the present Executive might show "scintillations of that spirit that has become fashionably characterized by the phrase 'By the Eternals!'" At another time he referred to his client, Gove, as "that feeble little man in his white cravat." But the most remarkable feature of Mr. Gould's address was in its close, where he urged that the Court should not issue mandamus unless its action could be entered, and then pictured the peril of a collision between the Judiciary and the Executive, by suggesting the possibility that the Governor would refuse to permit the mandate of the Court to be obeyed.

In Mr. Baker's brief but masterful summing-up in rejoinder, he uttered a most eloquent and thrilling protest against the astonishing attitude of counsel who come before the Supreme Judiciary of the State with a threat that its decision shall be defied. In such a defiance, promulgated on behalf of an officer not only sworn to obey and execute the laws, but furthermore bound by his responsibilities to be a leading conservator of law and order, Mr. Baker found the most startling suggestion of that public peril to which allusion had been made. Mr. Baker's closing sentences were delivered with great energy and were filled with the beauty of spontaneous and inspiring eloquence. Whatever may be the action of the Court—and we cannot entertain any serious doubt in regard to it—the public may well feel that the people's course has been ably presented, and in the argument for the petitioner will be found a noble vindication of the spirit and purpose of the Constitution that guards the life, liberty and happiness of the State of Maine.

THE BANGOR BRIBERY.

The attempt to make the open and public amendment of the town record of Dearth an effort to the wholesale secret tampering with returns upon which the "counting out" scheme is based, is altogether too weak to stand a moment's scrutiny. The rabid Greenback-Democratic town clerk, of Dearth, who was well acquainted with the Republican candidate, Charles A. Roth—who has moreover always been familiarly known as "Alonzo" and not by his dear name—deliberately, and it would seem purposely, recorded the votes of one for "Charles Roth," thus belying the votes of an uncle of the candidate. Affidavits have been given by two of the three Selectmen, and by the scores that the ballots cast all for Charles A. and none for Charles Roth. The clerk of the town was the only one in Washington County who persistently refused to furnish a certified copy of his record and he seemed anxious to prevent its examination by anybody. The decision immediately made boast that Mr. Roth was to be defeated by counting the Dearth votes for another name, and this led to the belief that the clerk had purposely made a false record.

Upon these facts Mr. Curran, of Calais, who was the private counsel of Mr. Roth, applied to the Selectmen and clerk for an amendment of the record to accord with the fact. This action was entirely individual and so far from its being under instructions from "the Republican managers" as alleged, we can personally testify that the leading Republicans at Augusta had no knowledge of it whatever until several days after the convention had been made. Mr. Curran is solely responsible for his action in the case.

But to show the unreality of citing this case as at all affecting the honest tampering with returns by the Democrats, it is only necessary to remark that the correction of the Dearth record is stated plainly and fully twice on the face of the document as have been made "by order of the selectmen Dec. 5th, 1879," so that it may be seen and known of all men. If any wrong has been done in the case it would seem fair to call for a man in Dearth who does not know that the Republican ballots were cast for Charles A. Roth, to throw the first stone.

SPECIMEN BRIEFS.

Messrs. Wing and Savage have stated to the Council that the charges made under their signatures in the documents prepared at Skolfield's house were not made by them and were untrue in point of fact.—Commercial Special.

A plump falsehood. No charges were made under the signatures of those gentlemen and they three never could state the charges pretend to the Republican press entries. The statements of Messrs. Wing and Savage interpolated in that protest were made distinctly and repeatedly to the personnel of every one of many intelligent gentlemen, and were taken down from their lips. They have not returned them.

"At the hearing before Judge Virgin in the Senate Chamber to-day, no effort was offered for the introduction of any testimony and no cross-examination was attempted. Mr. Gould undertook to make a eulogy in the role of injured innocence but was promptly taken down by Hon. Nathan Webb, who flatly ridiculed Gould's assumption of innocence and then expressed entire willingness to substitute words to suit him. There was no order to strike out.

If Mr. Heath had full access to the returns from Washington county last evening says the returns completely refute the charges of Rounds.—Commercial Special.

It is impossible that Mr. Heath could have made any such statement, because there is neither sense nor truth in it. Mr. Heath knows nothing about the charges of Mr. Rounds and has had nothing to do with them. Any statement that they are "refuted" would be false, and for Mr. Heath to go to a Democratic reporter with such a statement, would involve an inconceivable degree of mendacity and liability.

And the above are only a few samples of the Commercial's "news."

"A WORD ABOUT MAINE."

[From the N. Y. Bulletin.]

We give the Democrats of Maine fair warning. If they reverse the will of the people, and by fraud substitute a Democratic majority for a Republican majority in the Legislature, they will insure the election of a Republican President in 1880. We stand ready to be reported by Republicans. They may take us at three-fourths, and no one-gun organist by side-shifter. But they can adopt measures which neither bull-dozing nor corruption at the South, nor fraud in Maine or New York, can possibly obtain. The object of the proposed fraud in Maine is well understood. It is to secure such control of election machinery that the Democrats can count in their electors next year. Against this danger Republicans can provide by a method strictly constitutional, and in the early history of the Republic frequently employed. Probably contemplation of the consequences may lead the Democrats of Maine to retrace their steps, and to abstain from the meditated fraud.

The Constitution authorizes each State to appoint electors in such manner as its Legislature may direct. The Legislatures of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio, and every doubtful Northern State are now Republican. If the infamous fraud threatened in Maine should indeed be perpetrated, it would not take one week to put through the Legislatures of these States bills providing for the appointment of Republican Presidential electors for 1880. Disposition to resort to this course will depend mainly upon the behaviour of the Democrats. But for the a treasonable hands in Oregon, South Carolina and Florida in 1876, the returns since ballots and rifles in 1878, and the revolutionary course of Democrats at the last session of Congress, the loyal North would not have taken such care as to secure legislative control in every doubtful Northern State. The conduct of the Democratic party profound profound alarm in regard to the integrity of the public credit, but still more in respect to the permanency of free institutions. Republicans in all Northern States were warned. Conservative and loyal men took care that there should not be a single Northern State in 1880 in which the popular will could be defeated by trickery, fraud or force. What possibilities of infinite mischief there were, in Democratic control of State Executive or Legislatures, had been shown in Oregon, and the Republicans quickly resolved to place every critical Northern State in the hands of loyal and faithful men before another Presidential election. That work has been done, and those who represent the true spirit of the North now hold the power to determine in what manner electors shall be appointed next year.

It is to be hoped that Democrats will see fit to abandon the fraudulent and violent methods to which they have seemed disposed to resort. By such methods they can gain only, sure defeat. The Solid South, produced by fraud and outrage, has resulted in a Solid North, whose demands may as well be respected. It demands a peaceful and free election in every Southern State, suppression of frauds in the obtaining and returning of votes in Maine and elsewhere, and a ballot-box protected by United States laws. If the Democratic party accepts these terms in good faith and unreservedly, there will be no occasion to guard against it as a public enemy. The Republicans have no reason to shrink from an honest election. They know who does and honest votes, frequently overlook, will result in every Northern State in the teeth of the overwhelming majorities of this year. Such a election the Republicans would in no way prefer to any other. But if the Democrats do not dare to make a fair appeal to the will of a free people, and resort to fraud or force, they may learn what a solid North can do to prevent insult.

It was the purpose and spirit of the Constitution that the Presidential election should be made clearer as the passionate existing Legislature of the State might direct, should elect a President without any popular contest of the merits of candidates. A disputed election, like that of 1876, with hopelessly contrary final party, would not have been possible, under the system originally provided. There have been many warnings that the Democrats mean to cover themselves in next year, and the chemicals job threatened in Maine is only one of the many signs of that purpose. Murders at the South and frauds at the North, revolutionary demands for repeal of the election laws, and threats to stop the supplies of Government, all point to the same end. The North contends that these things shall cease. It demands that conspiracies against the freedom of elections and the supremacy of laws shall be abandoned. If the North is not satisfied, hitherto Northern Legislatures adjourn this winter, that there is to be a free and fair election, and ample care be offered to secure a full and effective expression of its will. The conduct of Democrats will go far to determine what the course of the North shall be.

THE CONSPIRACY.

ITS PHASES AND PROGRESS.

EVIDENCES OF THE CONFESSION OF A PLOTTER.

[Augusta Cor. Boston Herald.]

Still the fight goes on, and those who know most about the movements of the Fusionists are the most confident that the iniquity will be perpetrated. Attorney is passing new type in his office and making improvements and enlargements to do the State printing this winter with even more confidence than he did last year. When he was asked that the Republicans would cheat the Fusionists out of their victory by a fake count. Now he knows the Fusionists can cheat the Republicans by counting a sham count and so become rulers by a calculated fraud. Such will surely be the monstrous consequence of the determination of Governor.

Joseph E. Smith is to be Major-Governor, that last direction. The latter wishes the people to know that he is the instrument to push through the bill, and so he will give away to Smith and Senate will appoint Sawtelle superintendent of the Insane Asylum—much better place personally than the Governorship. And so Smith's head will be stretched and Goodwin's elbow tickled. THE GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL SILENT UNDER ASTOUNDING CHARGES OF WRONG-DOING.

The Governor and Council have been more bedeviled over the letter of Charles E. Rounds than from any other cause. Rounds offers distinctly to prove that the returns were surreptitiously opened in the office of the Secretary of State, and then the Democratic town were allowed to change and amend and alter, and in some cases wholly withdraw the old, return and put in a new, false and fraudulent one. This brings the smell of gross corruption right to the door of the Council chamber, and they do nothing to clear themselves. The odor will be fastened on them and will adhere to them for all time. Rounds and those who know the evidence to hold say if an investigation should be ordered by the Governor and Council, the United State Government would be driven into Coventry and perpetual disgrace. The simple truth is, Governor and his Council don't dare to order an investigation. They would rather endure anything than the proof which Rounds will submit to them.

THE DECLARATIONS OF THE COUNCIL PROVED FALSE.

Hon. F. A. Pike stayed in the city from Wednesday until last evening waiting to see the returns from Washington county, but in vain. An application was put in, signed by Mr. Rounds and Mr. Pike carried it himself to the door of the Council Chamber, asking very politely to see the Senatorial returns from Washington county as they bear on why day the Governor and Council would adjourn. At the end of three days they had taken no notice of it. And then right on top of this line of conduct came members of the Council with declare they have refused nobody a sight of the returns. The declaration can be pointed, the misstatement, the crook-like conduct of the Council have disgusted people quite as much. I was about to say, as the downright rascality they are about to perpetrate.

HEATED WARM-UP OF THE COUNCIL.

Perhaps there never was so ignorant a Council assembled together since Maine was a State. Take our John Z. Fosters, who is a man of some knowledge, and the other six all put together with don't make what Governor Coburn would call the "middling average" of a decidedly intelligent man. When they came in with the answer to the Republican protest the other day they had no rule on the business short of Dr. Parker, who does not pretend to know any law, but he was the best they had.

GOVERNOR GARCELON'S MISSION.

Many persons were at first disposed to rely on the better sense of Gov. Garcelon. But when they came to reflect they remembered that he had never held a public position in his life without a continued disturbance and sometimes outbreaking disorder. As Surgeon General of the State at the beginning of the war, when he was a Republican, he was a sore trial to everybody, and was driven finally to resign. Afterward, when he was a Democrat and was Mayor of Lewiston, he interrupted public service in a church to denounce the minister for what he was saying on temperance, and now as Governor we see what he is doing, and the whole country will take note.

THAT SHERIFF APOLOGY.

[From the Boston Journal.]

The Augusta correspondent of the Herald, evidently determined to hold the Governor and Council of Maine blameless for their violation of the Constitution, the precedents and the statutes, allows his zeal to outrun his discretion when he charges that the editor of the BANGOR WHIG is chiefly responsible for the present condition of affairs. If, says the eager apologist of the plotters, Mr. Reynolds had not charged the Governor with wrong-doing upon the Governor and Council, and assailed them as scoundrels, there would have been no trouble. He has made them officers of the law angry by misstatement, and now they will not comply with the requests of the Republicans. In other words, because your BANGOR WHIG and other papers have justly denounced their conspiracy that the Governor and Council were intending wrong-doing, these gentlemen, like children, pout and declare that now they have been suspected of it they will comply upon the Constitution and break the laws. How the Governor and Council of Maine may be pleased with a defence which makes them low brutes and cowardly villains against popular government through mere peevishness and ill humor, I do not care to say. But I will make a small bet any man in this right mind would think any less the case an interpretation of the body act. The fact is, as it can not be disputed, your WHIG had good grounds for its complaints, and two courts have since held language to be used more than what ignorant Councilmen and others and ask the people's enlightenment are not to be expected. It should seem, to be just cause for "spurious" chargeness.

Incredible as it may appear the Bangor Commercial has recently exhausted all former achievements in the manufacture and variety of its falsehoods. Hardly a statement in which it has printed as special despatches from Augusta has been truthful, and the billboards in last evening's issue purporting to give a report of interview of the editor of this paper with Hon. Marshall Butler, of Waterville, is amusing by and unqualified lies. Beyond the fact that we did have a private conversation with Mr. Butler on the train from Waterville to Augusta on Wednesday morning, there is not a word of truth in the report, which the Commercial has taken at second hand from that other repository of slander, the Boston Globe.

A MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Would your property be insured if it should burn? If not, why not? Is it because you have not the money to pay the premium? If so, you can insure it in the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Penobscot County, and pay for it in installments. Call on the Secretary at the office of the Company, in the Bangor House, or address him at Bangor, and he will call on you.
